Wholesale handbags can be classified into several types. Based on the materials used, their function or usage, and by the gender of users, handbags come in endless forms and shapes. Materials for these wholesale bags can be anywhere from paper to straw, wicker, fabrics like silk, jute, suede, and ramie, nylon and PVC, leather and leatherette. More and more new materials are being used for handbags. These may be monotone bags, or bags made in more colors than the rainbow: apricot, crimson, burgundy, blue, and yellow. These wholesale bags come in so many shapes, which may depend on the materials used, and designed with anything from beads to gem stones. When we consider usage of wholesale handbags, they can be classified in more ways than I will mention: fashion handbags, shopping handbags, advertising or promotional handbags, travel bags, evening, sports, luxury bags, and laptop carriers which look just like other pretty ladies' handbags. So you can be as trendy or versatile with your handbag, sporty or sophisticated as the need may be. Whatever your purpose, you will be able to find from the wide selection of wholesale handbags. And considering wholesale handbags by gender, they are often classified into three categories: for women, for men, and for children. Most of the wholesale handbag outlets are for women, but there are bags fashioned for men. Men also need something small enough to carry the day's bits and pieces in, not necessarily their pockets! They need portfolio and promotional handbags, sports bags too. Of course, the styles and materials for these wholesale bags are definitely masculine- often thick leather or rough suede- and in darker, neutral shades. Don't forget children's bags! Cheap shoes usually cost between twenty-five dollars to around sixty dollars. Often times, they are on sale because of large quantities stocked by department stores. These shoes will be sold out during sales because their prices have been reduced significantly to create space for the next consignment of cheap shoes. Cheap shoes are of low quality and have very poor workmanship. For instance, they can be easily ripped or torn, the soles usually are not glued firmly to the shoes, and each pair of shoes is a slightly different size. When cheaper shoes are produced, the companies use very cheap material such as: low grade plastic, foam, imitation leather, and coarsely woven fabric. One thing is that cheap shoes are usually not very comfortable most of the time. Also, cheap women's comfortable shoes come in styles to cater for the need of the low income earners. These kinds of customers are usually the very young and the very old, or those who cannot afford women's comfortable shoes that are more expensive. The most common styles for cheap shoes are in the form of slippers and the very low-heeled shoes for old women, and the high platforms that appeal to younger women. Second to cheap shoes are the moderately priced shoes. Moderately priced shoes usually cost anywhere from sixty dollars to ninety-five dollars. They go on sale because the producer has stopped production of that particular style of shoes, and the very few sizes that remain in the store need to be sold in order to create room for the next line of moderately priced shoes. Also, the quality of moderately priced shoes is usually far better than that of cheap shoes. The workmanship of moderately priced shoes is moderately good. For instance, they have fewer defects in manufacturing, fairly good craftsmanship on glued parts, and the shoes are more structurally sound than cheap shoes. Moderately priced shoes use higher quality materials in their shoes, such as leather for the upper portions of the women's comfortable shoes.
